

7 'good deeds' you can do in London

Charity might begin at home — but it doesn't have to end there. From fund-raising to breakfasting for a cause, Frankie McCoy offers a guide

1) Bag a Chari-table

Treating yourself to eggs Benedict at The Wolseley (below) or chops at Blacklock? Book through the ChariTable Bookings app.

Restaurants donate £1 per diner to any of 7,655 charities, from Oxfam to WaterAid. Try the 30 Bookings Challenge for a chance to win a five-star holiday by eating at 30 London spots.

(charitablebookings.org)

